

Homework Help

WEB SITES:

A+ Math

<http://www.aplusmath.com>

This web site was developed to help students improve their math skills interactively.

Bartleby

www.bartleby.com

A vast searchable collection of the classics of literature and verse, as well as many reference works.

BOXERmath.com

www.BOXERmath.com

BOXERmath.com is an interactive learning environment that features web-based guided instructional tutorials in the key subject of math. The goal of this web site is to provide affordable, on-demand access to Boxer Learning's interactive tutorial instruction as a viable teaching tool for students in grades 4 and up.

DiscoveryEducation.com

<http://www.discoveryeducation.com>

www.webmath.com

DiscoveryEducation.com provides innovative teaching materials for teachers, useful and enjoyable resources for students and smart advice for parents about how to help their kids enjoy learning and excel in school. The site is constantly reviewed for educational relevance by practicing classroom teachers in elementary school, middle school, and high school.

Dr. Math

<http://mathforum.org/dr.math>

An interactive math homework help site for grades K-12. Students send questions via web forms or e-mail and receive responses via e-mail.

Fact Monster

www.factmonster.com

A kids (ages 8-14) reference web site sponsored by Information Please. It combines the contents of an encyclopedia, a dictionary, an atlas, and several almanacs loaded with statistics, facts and historical records.

The Franklin Institute Online

<http://www2.fi.edu>

All the benefits of The Franklin Institute Museum, online! In the Resources for Science Learning area, there is a tab at the top called For Learners. This site offers a wealth of science information.

freeMathhelp

<http://www.freemathhelp.com>

Free Math help in Algebra, Geometry, Calculus and Statistics

Homework Spot

www.homeworkspot.com

Teachers, librarians and journalists have assembled into grade-appropriate categories online resources for English, math, science, history, art, music technology, foreign language, college prep, health, life skills, extracurricular activities and more.

Information Please Kids' Almanac

<http://www.infoplease.com/homework/>

This site offers an online almanac for kids. This site is from the world's largest educational publisher traces its history from a 1938 Radio Quiz Show, through a series of annual almanacs to the comprehensive online reference source it is today. It includes special features for students and teachers. Its Homework Center helps students search for answers.

Khan Academy

www.khanacademy.com

This site offers videos, assessments and interactive challenges for a number of different subject areas.

Mathway

www.mathway.com

Mathway provides free answers to math problems with step by step assistance available.

Reference Desk

www.refdesk.com

As its name suggests, this site is designed to provide the services you might expect of your library's reference desk—and then some. Here you will find online encyclopedias, a dictionary, thesaurus, atlases and much more.

Clinics

St. Joseph's College Free Math Clinic

<http://www.sicny.edu/long-island/academics/programs-departments/mathematics-and-computer-science/math-clinic>

Saint Joseph's College offers a free tutoring to high school students on Saturday mornings during the spring semester (February through April). Hours are usually from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Room 1-12 in the Business and Technology Center on the dates the Math Clinic is in operation. Students should bring their textbook and calculator, as well as any homework assignments or tests they have had returned to them, so that the tutors can best serve the needs of the students. Check the College website during inclement weather to see if the clinic is in session. A message will be posted if the College is closed.

This document is intended for educational and informational purposes only and does NOT constitute a recommendation or endorsement by SCS or its affiliates. SCS is not responsible for the accuracy of information provided from outside sources; this document does not constitute solicitation or an offer to sell products or services. Because participants assume all risk, it is important to carefully research potential opportunities.